DIGEST

SB 264 Original | 2015 Regular Session | Dorsey-Colomb

Present law provides relative to the prohibited use of a tracking device and provides penalties for a violation of present law.

Present law provides that a violation of present law is to be punished by a fine of between $100 and $500, up to six months imprisonment, or both.

Proposed law increases the penalties for a violation of present law as follows:

(1) For the first offense, the violation is to be punished by a fine of between $500 and $1,000, up to six months imprisonment, or both.

(2) For the second offense, the violation is to be punished by a fine of between $750 and $1,500, imprisonment for between 30 days and six months, or both.

(3) For the third offense and all subsequent offenses, the violation is to be punished by a fine of between $1,000 and $2,000, or imprisonment for between 60 days and one year, or both.

Proposed law otherwise retains present law.

Effective upon signature of the governor or lapse of time for gubernatorial action.
