2011 REGULAR SESSION
ACTUARIAL NOTE HB 214

Bill Information:

Current Law

Current law provides members of the Municipal Police Employees' Retirement System (MPERS) with survivor benefit payable upon the death of an active member or disability retiree. These survivor benefits are payable in different amounts depending on whether the deceased member left a surviving spouse and/or children.

Proposed Law

Proposed law provides that if a deceased member is not married to the natural parent of his surviving children at the time of death and if a trust has been established under law for the benefit of such children, the system shall pay the children's benefit to the designated trustee of such children.

Implications of the Proposed Changes

The proposed legislation does not change the amount of the survivor benefit payable to surviving children. The proposed legislation changes where funds are paid under certain circumstances (to trustee instead of the children directly).

Cost Analysis:

Analysis of Actuarial Costs

Retirement Systems

HB 214 will have no effect on the actuarial cost. This bill does not change the amount of survivor benefits.

Other Post Retirement Benefits

There are no actuarial costs associated with HB 214 for post-retirement benefits other than pensions

Analysis of Fiscal Costs

There are no fiscal costs associated with HB 214. We have not yet received information from MPERS related to the fiscal cost of HB 214, therefore, we assume there will be no additional administrative costs to implement this bill.
