TAX/SALES RE SEE FISC NOTE GF RV See Note Page 1 of 1
 Provides for sales and use tax collection by marketplace facilitators. (7/1/20)

Present law requires dealers to collect, file, and remit consumer use tax collections related to remote seller transactions.

Proposed law includes marketplace facilitators under the definition of remote sellers and requires marketplace facilitators to register, calculate remote sales and determine taxability, collect and electronically file and remit sales and use tax to the Sales and Use Tax Commission for Remote Sellers for taxable remote sales, when the facilitator transacts on its own behalf or facilitates a transaction for delivery into the state. Proposed law repeals the requirement for dealers to file all applicable returns and remittances.

Effective Jul 1, 2020.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Present law provides that effective July 1, 2020, remote sellers and marketplaces will be required to file and collect at the appropriate tax rate for every applicable jurisdiction.

Proposed law would effectively shift responsibility for calculation, reporting, filing and remittance from marketplace remote sellers to marketplace facilitators, for applicable transactions. Sales tax from sellers without physical presence in the state (remote sales broadly considered) has been accumulating in total state and local sales tax receipts for a number of years. While contained in aggregate tax receipts, at the state level, no significant effect on tax receipts has been discernible. To the extent that proposed law enhances compliance and enforcement, state and local revenues may increase, but potential revenue gains are speculative.
