AN ACT

To enact Chapter 22 of Title 6 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, to be comprised of R.S. 6:1401, relative to blockchain tokens; to exempt blockchain tokens from securities law; to provide conditions for approval; to provide for notice; to provide for form; to provide for rulemaking; to provide a definition; and to provide for related matters.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Louisiana:

Section 1. Chapter 22 of Title 6 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, comprised of R.S. 6:1401, is hereby enacted to read as follows:

CHAPTER 22. OPEN BLOCKCHAIN TOKEN EXEMPTIONS

§1401. Open blockchain exemptions; qualifications; notice; rulemaking

A. A developer or seller of an open blockchain token shall not be deemed the issuer of a security and shall not be subject to the provisions of the Louisiana Securities Law as provided for in R.S. 51:701 et seq. if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The developer or seller of the token, or the registered agent of the developer or seller, files a notice of intent with the commissioner of the office of financial institutions as specified in Subsection C of this Section.
(2) The purpose of the token is for a consumptive purpose, which shall only be exchangeable for, or provided for the receipt of, goods, services, or content, including rights of access to goods, services, or content.

(3)(a) The developer or seller of the token did not sell the token to the initial buyer as a financial investment.

(b) The provisions of Subparagraph (a) of this Paragraph shall be deemed satisfied only if the following conditions are met:

(i) The developer or seller did not market the token as a financial investment.

(ii) At least one of the following is true:

(aa) The developer or seller of the token reasonably believed that it sold the token to the initial buyer for a consumptive purpose.

(bb) The token has a consumptive purpose that is available at the time of sale and can be used at or near the time of sale for use for a consumptive purpose.

(cc) If the token does not have a consumptive purpose available at the time of sale, the initial buyer of the token is prevented from reselling the token until the token is available for use for a consumptive purpose.

(dd) The developer or seller takes other reasonable precautions to prevent buyers from purchasing the token as a financial investment.

B. A person who facilitates the exchange of an open blockchain token shall not be deemed a broker-dealer or a person who otherwise deals in securities under this Title and shall not be subject to the provisions of the Louisiana Securities Law, R.S. 51:701 et seq., if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The person, or the registered agent of the person, files a notice of intent with the commissioner of the office of financial institutions, as specified in Subsection C of this Section.

(2) The person has a reasonable and good-faith belief that a token, subject to exchange, conforms to the requirements of Paragraph (1) of this Subsection.

(3) The person takes reasonably prompt action to terminate the exchange of a token that does not conform to the requirements of this Subsection.
C.(1) A developer, seller, or a person who facilitates the exchange of an open blockchain token, or the registered agent of the applicable person, shall electronically file a notice of intent with the commissioner of the office of financial institutions before the person may qualify for an exemption under this Chapter.

(2) The notice of intent required by this Subsection shall contain all of the following:

(a) The name of the person acting as a developer, seller, or facilitator.

(b) The contact information of the person or the registered agent of the person and whether the person will be acting as a developer, seller, or facilitator.

(3) A secure form, in accordance with Paragraph (2) of this Subsection, shall be made available by the office of financial institutions on its website.

D.(1) As used in this Section, "open blockchain token" means a digital unit which complies with Paragraphs (2) and (3) of this Subsection and is created in any of the following manners:

(a) In response to the verification or collection of a specified number of transactions relating to a digital ledger or database.

(b) By deploying computer code to a blockchain network that allows for the creation of digital tokens or other units.

(c) Using any combination of the methods specified in Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of this Paragraph.

(2) An open blockchain token shall be recorded in a digital ledger or database which is chronological, consensus-based, decentralized, and mathematically verified in nature, especially relating to the supply of units and their distribution.

(3) An open blockchain token shall be capable of being traded or transferred between persons without an intermediary or custodian of value.

E. The commissioner of the office of financial institutions shall promulgate rules to implement the provisions of this Chapter.
