Dept./Agy.: Dept. of Public Safety	Analyst: Zachary Rau
Subject: Verification of Insurance by Officers

MOTOR VEHICLES EG NO IMPACT See Note Page 1 of 1
Provides relative to electronic verification of compulsory motor vehicle insurance

Proposed law requires law enforcement officers to use electronic means readily available to verify compulsory motor vehicle insurance at all traffic stops, including the names of the insured, the policy effective date, expiration date, a description of the vehicle(s) insured by the policy, and the current policy status. Proposed law requires motorists to provide evidence of compulsory motor vehicle insurance pursuant to present law if law enforcement officers are unable to verify insurance policies electronically. Proposed law requires the Dept. of Public Safety to promulgate rules as necessary to comply with proposed law.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. The Dept. of Public Safety's Real Time Insurance Verification System already performs the functions required by provisions of proposed law. The provision of proposed law requiring verification of motor vehicle insurance through electronic means may lengthen traffic stops, but does not carry an apparent fiscal impact.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
