EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law will result in an SGF expenditure increase for the Louisiana Commission on Law Enforcement to include motorcyclist profiling awareness training in the current Bias Recognition Policing curriculum online or classroom. The agency reports that it will be necessary to contract out the redesign of the bias recognition curriculum to include the profile training. An RFP would be formulated to seek technical and professional assistance in that development. The cost of the assistance could range from $1500 up to $3,000 depending on the extent of the content that the POST Council deems necessary. The classroom version using classroom instructors would be ideal for the basic training curriculum and the online training would be better suited for the existing 23,000 peace officers statewide. The costs for an online training module would include a one-time development and implementation cost of approximately $28,000 based on past experience of developing training modules for POST. This production costs is in addition to the redesign of the curriculum. Based on past experience with online training courses, the module should be periodically updated every 3-5 years.
