

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 41

BY SENATORS WHITE, BARROW, CARTER, HENSGENS AND MILLS

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

To create and provide for the Law Enforcement Officer PTSD Study Commission to study the short-term and long-term effects of post traumatic stress disorder on law enforcement officers and to recommend any action or legislation that the commission deems necessary or appropriate.

WHEREAS, the state of Louisiana is served by over eighteen thousand law enforcement officers at the state and local level; and

WHEREAS, the diagnosis known as post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) was first defined by the American Psychiatric Association in 1980 in order to more accurately understand and treat veterans who had endured severe, traumatic combat stress; and

WHEREAS, PTSD can occur as a result of severely traumatic events including but not limited to sexual assault, child abuse, high-impact collisions and crashes, natural disasters, acts of terrorism, and military combat; and

WHEREAS, policing often necessitates exposure to traumatic, violent, and horrific events, which trauma can have negative effects on law enforcement officers' health and well-being, and can lead to an increased risk for developing PTSD; and

WHEREAS, studies have found that law enforcement officers experience approximately 3.5 traumatic events in a six-month period, most often involving being witness to tragic and depressing events, such as adults and children who have been severely injured or died from abuse, assault, or traffic accidents; and

WHEREAS, studies have also found that more than three-quarters of law enforcement officers reported a traumatic event occurring in the previous month; and

WHEREAS, although PTSD is typically associated with a single incident, it is often

caused by exposure to numerous traumatic incidents over several years or, in some cases, an entire career; and

WHEREAS, it is in the public interest to identify and diagnose PTSD in law enforcement officers, with the ultimate goal of those law enforcement officers suffering from PTSD being able to receive treatment, retain employment, and remain productive employees of their agencies; and

WHEREAS, it is imperative that PTSD suffered by law enforcement officers be recognized as compensable under worker's compensation, as an invaluable part of the treatment of this disorder.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of Louisiana hereby creates the Law Enforcement Officer PTSD Study Commission to study the conditions, needs, issues, and problems relative to the short-term and long-term effects of post traumatic stress disorder on law enforcement officers and to recommend any action or legislation that the commission deems necessary or appropriate.
