EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on state governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. This legislation places regulations on the operation and activities of private collection agencies, requires registration with the Secretary of State, and provides for misdemeanor criminal penalties and enforcement by district attorneys. This legislation may result in more monies sent to custodial parents due to a 15% maximum cap placed on the fees charged by private collection agencies. The Secretary of State has indicated no material effect on expenditures as a result of this legislation.

The proposed legislation may result in an increase in local government expenditures if a private child support collection agency or any individual directly involved in providing support enforcement services is prosecuted and convicted of willfully violating prohibited practices defined in this legislation or fails to register with the Secretary of State. The proposed legislation is a misdemeanor; therefore, these offenders are not sentenced to the Department of Public Safety and Corrections. District attorneys and local law enforcement agencies may realize an indeterminable increase in expenditures associated with enforcement of this legislation. The cost increase will depend on the number of private child care collection agencies prosecuted and convicted.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Revenues generated by the Secretary of State will increase as a result of this measure. This legislation requires all child care collection agencies to register with the Secretary of State; however no specific business organization type, i.e. corporation, partnership, or limited liability company, was mentioned in the legislation. The Secretary of State charges various registration fees depending on the business type and requires an annual report filing fee of $25. Revenues generated from fees are indeterminable and will depend on the total number of new child care collection agencies that register and their business organization type.

In addition, this legislation authorizes penalties on child care collection agencies that engage in prohibited practices or fail to register with the Secretary of State and provides for the enforcement of these penalties by district attorneys. Any revenue generated through the imposition of fines created by this legislation would accrue to local government entities.
