

New law prohibits a political subdivision from charging or imposing a tax upon any person or legal entity, the sole basis of which is the fact that the person or legal entity is domiciled, registered, or organized outside of the jurisdiction of that political subdivision.

New law prohibits a political subdivision from charging or imposing a fee for the general use of the public streets of the political subdivision upon any person or legal entity which is domiciled, registered or organized outside of the jurisdiction of that political subdivision, when such fee is not charged or imposed upon the person or legal entities which are domiciled, residing, registered, organized or doing business within the jurisdiction of that political subdivision.

New law provides for enforcement by the attorney general's office. Authorizes the attorney general to request, and the district court to grant injunctive relief, restitution and costs.

New law exempts the towns of Grand Isle and Lake Arthur from the provisions of new law.

Effective August 15, 2010.
