DIGEST

SB 369 Original

2016 Regular Session

Claitor

Present law provides relative to administrative remedy procedures to be utilized by the Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections for receiving, hearing, and disposing of any and all complaints and grievances by adult or juvenile offenders against the state, the governor, the department, or any officials or employees thereof, among other specified individuals and entities, that arise while the offender is within the custody or under the supervision of the department, a contractor operating a private prison facility, or a sheriff. Present law further provides relative to records, confidentiality, judicial review of administrative acts, service of process, and definitions.

Present law was held unconstitutional by the La. Supreme Court in Pope v. State, 792 So.2d 713 (La. 2001). The court held that present law divests the district courts of the original jurisdiction granted by the La. Constitution in all civil matters and vests original jurisdiction over certain tort actions in department officials who administer the administrative remedy procedure. The court further held that present law is an invalid attempt to alter the original jurisdiction of the district courts by legislative act. For these reasons, the court held present law to be unconstitutional as applied to tort actions by offenders.

Accordingly, proposed law repeals present law in its entirety.

Effective upon signature of the governor or lapse of time for gubernatorial action.
