EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

The Dept. of Economic Development does not anticipate any material additional administrative costs. It presumes that it will continue to administer the program largely along the lines it has historically.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

The effect on local ad valorem tax receipts is unknown, as the bill appears to provide for local revision of exemption contracts, and ultimate approval or denial of those contracts. How this program and that authority will affect the industrial tax exemption program, the affected ad valorem tax base, and ad valorem exemptions is speculative.
