Abstract: Requires the head of the office or agency from which a qualified law enforcement officer has retired in good standing to issue identification to the officer for purposes of carrying a concealed firearm.

Present law provides that an individual who is retired from service as a qualified law enforcement officer and who was commissioned by the agency or office from which he retired and is carrying the identification required by his office as a retired law enforcement officer, may carry a concealed firearm anywhere in the state, including any place open to the public.

Present law provides that the retired law enforcement officer shall have identification which proves he is a retired law enforcement officer.
