DIGEST

SB 205 Reengrossed

2022 Regular Session

Jackson

Present law (R.S. 3:1201 et seq.) provides for the "Soil Conservation Districts Law" and creates the state soil and water conservation commission and soil and water conservation districts.

Present law provides for the purposes of the "Soil Conservation Districts Law", including the conservation of the soil and soil resources of this state.

Proposed law adds the conservation of soil health to the list of purposes and otherwise retains present law.

Proposed law defines the following terms:

- (1) "Soil health" means the overall composition of the soil, including the amount of organic matter in and water holding capacity of the soil, and the continued capacity of soil to function as a vital living ecosystem that sustains plants, animals, and humans.
- (2) "Soil health practices" means agricultural practices that improve the health of soils, including but not limited to consideration of depth of topsoil horizons, water infiltration rate, organic carbon content, nutrient content, bulk density, biological activity, biological and microbiological diversity, and minimization of bare ground.

Present law requires the members of the old state soil and water conservation commission created by law prior to August 1, 1956, to continue to serve until the new members of the state soil and water conservation commission are elected.

Proposed law removes obsolete provisions of present law.

Present law requires the chairman of the old state soil and water conservation commission to notify the soil and water conservation district supervisors of the time and the place that an election is to be held within 45 days after August 1, 1956.

Proposed law requires the chairman of the state soil and water conservation commission to notify the soil and water conservation district supervisors of the time and the place that an election is to be held as provided by law.

Proposed law requires a state convention to be held upon the call of the chairman of the state soil and water conservation commission and requires the chairman to provide notice to the soil and water conservation district supervisors.

Present law provides for the powers of the state soil and water conservation commission, including the power to assist and guide districts in the preparation and carrying out of programs for resource conservation authorized by law.

Present law adds the preparation and carrying out of programs for soil health to the list of powers of the commission and otherwise retains present law.

Proposed law corrects a reference in law from the Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to the Natural Resources Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Present law provides for the powers of the soil and water conservation districts.

Proposed law adds soil health, soil health improvements, soil health practices aiding enhanced food and fiber production, conservation of natural resources, and adaptation to changes in climate and environment to the list of powers and otherwise retains present law.

Proposed law provides for technical corrections.

Effective upon signature of the governor or lapse of time for gubernatorial action.
