HB 115 Engrossed

2025 Regular Session

Stagni

Abstract: Creates an exception to the requirement of licensure for clinical laboratory personnel who work for source plasma donation centers that perform only nondiagnostic tests for source plasma donors.

Present law requires that clinical laboratory personnel be licensed by the Clinical Laboratory Personnel Committee in order to practice clinical laboratory science in clinical laboratory settings.

Present law creates an exception to the licensing requirement for clinical laboratory personnel practicing clinical laboratory science in either a clinical laboratory operated by the U.S. government or a nonprofit laboratory operated and maintained exclusively for instruction and research involving no individual patients.

Proposed law adds an exception to the licensing requirement for clinical laboratory personnel practicing clinical laboratory science in a source plasma donation center that only performs nondiagnostic tests for the purpose of screening source plasma donors.
