Existing law provides for the enforcement and authority of the secretary to engage in a civil process for litigating the violations of existing law.

Prior law provided for the assessment of civil penalties for enforcement actions provided under existing law of minor to moderate violations that do not exceed $3,000 per violation or an aggregate total of $5,000 per violator.

New law modifies prior law by increasing the penalties for minor to moderate violations from $3,000 to $5,000 per violation and from $5,000 to $10,000 in the aggregate per violator.
