Provides relative to disclosure of juror information

Proposed law provides that the identity, name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, image, or likeness of a juror shall not be a public record, unless upon motion by any person and finding of good cause by the court that it may be disclosed; provides that it shall not apply if a list of jurors is submitted to a local government; provides that upon motion by any person and finding of good cause by the court, information collected by the court or prosecuting attorney during the jury selection process about a person who serves as a juror, including the juror's name, home address, or other identifying information, may be disclosed in whole or in part as the court deems necessary; provides that those who violate prohibitions against information disclosure shall be fined no more than $1,000, or imprisoned for no more than six months, or both; does not apply to a public body; is added as an exception to current law regarding public records; shall apply prospectively, only.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in Local Funds expenditures for local governing authorities if a person is convicted of publicly disclosing the identity, name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, image, or likeness of any juror. Proposed law creates a crime and is a misdemeanor. The exact fiscal impact of this legislation to local governing authorities is indeterminable, since it is not known how many people will be convicted and incarcerated in local facilities, nor the length of sentences assessed with those convictions as a result of its potential enactment. The maximum imprisonment term at the local level is no more than six months.

There is no anticipated direct material effect on state governmental expenditures as a result of this measure because this legislation creates a misdemeanor offense; therefore, these offenders will not be sentenced to the Department of Public Safety & Corrections - Corrections Services (DPS&C-CS).

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in local revenues as a result of convictions for publicly disclosing the identity, name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, image, or likeness of any juror. The exact fiscal impact of the passage of this legislation on local revenue is indeterminable because the fines that would be imposed on those convicted (not more than $1,000) are optional, and the amount of fines, if imposed, may vary. The potential revenue will accrue to the local governing authority.
