EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. Proposed law may result in a nominal impact on workload in the Office of the Attorney General, to the extent that the office pursues civil actions under the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law to enforce violations of the proposed law. Any fiscal impact is projected to be absorbed within the existing budget of the Attorney General.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Proposed law may result in an indeterminable increase in Self-Generated Revenue in the Office of the Attorney General, to the extent that the Attorney General secures civil penalties for violation of the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law. The exact fiscal impact to the Office of the Attorney General is indeterminable, because the amount of the fines that can be secured is variable in nature (no more than $5,000 for each violation), and it is unknown the number of instances in which the Attorney General will be able to secure them.
