CONTRACTS: Provides relative to material harmful to minors

Report amends the bill to:

2. Provide a mechanism for an interactive computer service to cure a violation of proposed law.
3. Provide for enforcement by the office of the attorney general if a violation of propose law is not cured.

Digest of the bill as proposed by the Conference Committee

Proposed law defines "account", "interactive computer service", "minor", and "material harmful to minors".

Proposed law prohibits an interactive computer service that enters into a contract with a minor from delivering or displaying to a minor account material harmful to minors that was created or developed, in whole or in part, by the interactive computer service.

Proposed law subjects any interactive computer service that violates the provisions of proposed law to a civil fine of up to $10,000 per violation set and enforced by the attorney general by filing a civil enforcement action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Proposed law requires that prior to filing a civil enforcement action, the attorney general shall provide the interactive computer service with a written notice that identifies each alleged violation and an explanation for each.

Proposed law provides a mechanism for an interactive computer service to cure the violation. If the violations are not cured or another violation is committed after receipt of written notice, proposed law authorizes the attorney general to file a civil enforcement action against an interactive computer service.

Proposed law provides for reasonable attorney fees, court costs, and investigative costs.
