

Existing law provides for the La. Property and Casualty Insurance Commission within the La. Department of Insurance. Charges the commission with reviewing and examining the availability and affordability of property and casualty insurance in the state. Specifies the membership of the full commission and of its ad hoc committees.

New law additionally provides that a representative of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies shall serve on the commission. Also provides that such representative shall serve on the commission's automobile insurance ad hoc committee, homeowners ad hoc committee, and workers' compensation committee.

Effective Aug. 1, 2014.
