HB 231 Original

2020 Regular Session

James

Abstract: Allows certain offenders to earn additional credits toward the reduction of the projected good time parole supervision date.

Present law provides that an offender may be awarded up to 360 days toward the reduction of the projected good time parole supervision date for participation in certified treatment and rehabilitation programs.

Present law further provides that offenders who participate in a workforce development release program shall be eligible to earn an additional 180 days of credit toward the reduction of the projected good time parole supervision date.

Proposed law allows offenders who earn a bachelor's degree or a master's degree from a Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections approved educational institution to earn an additional 90 days of credit toward the reduction of projected good time parole supervision date.
