Abstract: Prohibits corporal punishment in public elementary and secondary schools

Present law prohibits the administration of corporal punishment to students with exceptionalities (except gifted and talented students), and to students who are eligible for services under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and who have an Individual Accommodation Plan. Otherwise grants local school boards discretion in the use of corporal punishment for all other students and requires them to adopt rules and regulations to implement and control its use.

Proposed law prohibits any form of corporal punishment in public elementary and secondary schools.

Present law defines corporal punishment to mean the use of physical force that causes pain or discomfort to discipline a student, not including seclusion or restraint under certain circumstances.
