HB 808 Original

2022 Regular Session

Hodges

Abstract: Expands the Parents' Bill of Rights for Public Schools by adding that parents have the right that a school shall not discriminate against their children by teaching that they are oppressed or oppressors based on their race or national origin.

Present law provides for the "Parents' Bill of Rights for Public Schools", which lists specific rights of parents of public school children. Proposed law adds that parents have the right that the school shall not discriminate against their child by teaching their child that the child is currently or destined to be oppressed or be an oppressor based upon the child's race or national origin.
