RE: Veto of House Bill 492 of the 2022 Regular Session

Dear Speaker Schexnayder:

Please be advised that I have vetoed House Bill 492 of the Regular Session of 2022.

This bill, in part, provides for an exception to La. C. Cr. P. art. 211 in that an officer may make an arrest for a misdemeanor offense, instead of issuing a summons, if the officer believes the person also committed a felony or has an outstanding felony warrant. I would have signed the bill if it had been limited to this change. However, the bill also contains a provision that provides an immunity, to sheriffs' offices only, for arresting an individual when a written summons was authorized. The effect of this change provides for clear inequitable treatment for law enforcement agencies. If a deputy sheriff, a city police officer, and a state trooper all encountered someone who committed the same offense that required a summons to be issued rather than an arrest, only the deputy sheriff would be immune from suit for making an arrest. While I am generally opposed to providing immunities in law that deny accountability for wrongful conduct, I certainly cannot support a change in law that provides this protection for some law enforcement officers and not others.

Sincerely,
