Present Constitution does not allow the forfeiture of property for nonpayment of taxes. However, when the year in which taxes are due expires, the collector is required after giving notice of delinquency to the taxpayer and without suit to advertise the property on which the taxes are due for sale. Requires advertisement to be published in the official journal of the parish or municipality or as provided by law for sheriff's sales.

Proposed Constitution repeals present constitution provisions and requires the legislature to provide by law for the efficient administration of tax sales including notice provisions that satisfy due process requirements.

Present Constitution provides that property sold in a tax sale shall be redeemable for three years after the date of recordation of the tax sale, by paying the price given, including costs, 5% penalty thereon, and interest at the rate of 1% per month until redemption.

Proposed Constitution repeals present constitution provisions and requires the legislature to provide by law for the efficient administration of tax sales including provisions related to a redemptive period, imposition of interest not to exceed 1% per month on a non-compounding basis, and imposition of penalty not to exceed 5%.

Present Constitution provides that no sale of property for taxes shall be set aside for any cause, except on proof of payment of the taxes prior to the date of the sale, unless the proceeding to annul is instituted within six months after service of notice of sale. A notice of sale shall not be served until the final day for redemption has ended. It must be served within five years after the date of the recordation of the tax deed if no notice is given.

Proposed Constitution repeals present constitution provisions.
