Establishes indefinite delivery and indefinite quantity professional services contracting for design services for certain projects

Proposed legislation establishes procedures and requirements governing indefinite delivery and indefinite quantity (IDIQ) professional design services contracts for public agencies. Defines such contracts as master agreements allowing agencies to issue multiple task orders for separate design efforts. Requires agencies seeking IDIQ contracts to notify the Division of Administration (DOA), which must evaluate the request and refer it to the appropriate professional selection board. Provides for advertisement of contract opportunities, submission of qualifications, and selection of design professionals through established boards. Prohibits the inclusion of design services for new buildings. Establishes a maximum of $13 M per renovation task order. Limits contract terms to two years with a maximum total of $1 M in design fees. Authorizes amendments to task orders as necessary to complete ongoing projects. Requires agencies to maintain at least two IDIQ design services contracts in effect and clarifies that other professional design service contracts remain governed by existing law.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. Proposed legislation establishes procedures and limitations governing the procurement and administration of professional design services contracts rather than requiring new programs or additional services. State agencies and the Division of Administration (DOA) may incur minimal workload increases associated with contract notification, evaluation, advertising, and selection board coordination; however, such duties are consistent with existing procurement and contract oversight functions and are anticipated to be absorbed within existing resources.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
