6 refusal, does not constitute an anatomical gift, and results in no anatomical gift 7 decision being in effect unless and until a new authorization or refusal is made
8 in accordance with this Part.

9 §2354.2. Preclusive effect of anatomical gift; amendment; revocation

10 A. ~~Except as otherwise provided in Subsection G of this Section and subject~~

29 ~~17:2354 or 2356~~ withdraws the prior gift but does not constitute a refusal and 30 does not bar another person from making an anatomical gift of the body or part

1 in accordance with this Part.

6 F. In the absence of an express, contrary indication by the donor or other 7 person authorized to make an anatomical gift, an anatomical gift of a part for one or 17 recovery and is not medically indicated for the care or treatment of the patient.

18 (5) The consent does not authorize any premortem intervention that 19 poses a material risk of causing or hastening the death of the patient, or a 20 material risk of interfering with the determination of death in accordance with 21 R.S. 9:111.

22 F. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to alter the standards for 23 determination of death under R.S. 9:111 or to authorize any practice
24 inconsistent with that Section.

25 G. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to prohibit the provision of 26 comfort care, palliative treatment, or the withdrawal or withholding of 27 life-sustaining treatment in accordance with applicable law and accepted

13 Subsection B of this Section shall occur unless expressly authorized as part of 14 a legally effective authorization applicable to post-determination handling and 15 transport.

16 D. Authorization to make an anatomical gift after death shall not, by 17 itself, constitute authorization for transport of the decedent to a nonhospital 18 facility or for continuation of mechanical support following death
19 determination.

20 E. Any handling or transport of the decedent following death
21 determination and organ or tissue recovery shall be conducted in a manner
22 consistent with the dignity of the decedent and with the reasonable expectations
23 of the family, as informed by the disclosures made under this Section.

24 F. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to limit the recovery of 25 organs or tissue otherwise authorized by law, to alter the standards for 26 determination of death under R.S. 9:111, or, except to the extent necessary to 27 carry out a valid anatomical gift, to alter or transfer the custodial authority of 28 the person or persons authorized by law to control disposition of the body.
