16	Art. 1113. Minor parents
17	A. Except as otherwise provided herein, if a parent executing

2	mature and well-informed to surrender his child for adoption or that the
3	surrender is otherwise in the child's best interest.

5	Comments —1999
6 7 8 9 10 11	(a) Consistent with other provisions of the Children's Code, a young person emancipated by marriage should also have capacity to decide about her child's care, custody and control. Similarly, if a court has entered a judgment of emancipation pursuant to Article 385, that finding of maturity should suffice to empower the minor to make judgments about the potential adoption of any child. See Adoption of Vest , 427 So.2d 135 (3d Cir. 1983, dissenting opinion).
13 14 15	(b) Paragraph D expands the minor's right to consent to an intrafamily adoption by any of the relatives now authorized by Article 1243. For the procedure contemplated for the mature minor determination of this paragraph, see R.S. 40:1299.35.5.

20	C. If he is a major, any surrendering father of a child may waive
21	the counseling otherwise mandated by Paragraph A of this Article. In
22	this case, the attorney or counselor shall execute an affidavit attesting

25	Comments —1999
26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33	Mental health counseling is required for both private and agency adoptions. This amendment withdraws any apparent authority of a minor father to waive this counseling and serves the overriding purpose of this Code to protect children from immature choice, and also avoids a gender-based equal protection challenge. See In the Matter of Adoption of M.L. , 688 So.2d 1352 (4th Cir. 1997). In an agency adoption, the consent of the parent of neither a minor father nor minor mother is required. Art. 1113(E); Golz v. Children's Bureau of New Orleans, Inc. , 326 So.2d 865, appeal dismissed, 426 U.S. 901 (1976).

4	Art. 1127. Request for disclosure of nonidentifying medical records;
5	adoptions prior to September 11, 1981
6	A. Any child who was surrendered to an agency prior to
7	September 11, 1981, or, if still a minor, his legal representative on his
8	behalf, or a surrendering biological parent may, upon written request
9	to an agency, obtain nonidentifying medical history or genetic
10	information from the agency without the necessity of filing a petition
11	for disclosure from the agency as required by the provisions of Chapter
12	5 of Title XII of this Code.
13	B. Upon such a written request, the agency shall make a good
14	faith effort to review its records and abstract nonidentifying genetic or
15	medical history information, similar in content to the Statement of
16	Family History.
17	C. Such nonidentifying medical history shall be made available
18	to the adopted child, or his legal representative, for a reasonable charge.
19	* * *
20	Comments —1999
21	These revisions reflect what is now a duty to maintain updated
22	files when an agency receives or discovers relevant medical or genetic
23	information after an adoption is finalized. See Art. 1126. Upon
24	request by either the adopted child or the biological parent who may
25	need accurate nonidentifying medical information concerning a
26	surrendered child, the agency is authorized to provide updated
27	information without violating the generally applicable confidentiality
28	provisions. See Art. 1186.

Art.	1127.1.	Maintenance	of	medical	report

A. After adoptive placement of the child, the agency or person to whom a surrender is made shall have a continuing duty to maintain these records and supplement them if additional nonidentifying medical or genetic information is received about the adopted child or a surrendering biological parent.

B. Upon a request in accordance with Article 1127, the agency shall disclose such information.

Comments —1999

This article imposes three distinct responsibilities upon adoption agencies: To gather relevant medical and genetic information; to provide the information upon the child's adoptive placement and majority; and to maintain and update these medical records so that requested information is as complete as possible.

Art. 1131. Filing; institution of records check

* * *

C. Upon filing, the court shall promptly review the surrender and any accompanying documents to ensure their sufficiency in accordance with Article 1104. If any document fails to comply with the requirements of this Title, the court shall immediately notify all counsel of record and may refuse to accept the surrender until such time as the defects are remedied. If the surrender and documents are found to comply with the requirements of this Title, the court shall enter an order approving the surrender and immediately notify all counsel of record.

1	C. D. Upon the filing of any court order approving the adoptive
2	placement pursuant to Article 1178, the court shall immediately issue
3	both of the following orders:
4	(1) That the local sheriff conduct a records check for all federal
5	arrests and convictions and all state arrests and convictions in this and
6	any other states in which either of the prospective adoptive parents has
7	been domiciled.
8	(2) That the department conduct a records check for validated
9	complaints of child abuse or neglect in this or any other state in which
10	either of the prospective adoptive parents has been domiciled since
11	becoming a major, involving either prospective adoptive parent.
12	D. E. Each order shall state the full name, date of birth, social
13	security number, and former and current state(s) of domicile since
14	becoming a major of each prospective adoptive parent.
15	E. F. The sheriff and the department shall accord priority to
16	these orders and shall provide a certificate indicating all information
17	discovered or that no information has been found.
18	Comments —1999
19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26	Historically, adoptions often failed because of defects in the surrender documents urged by counsel in contested hearings that occurred long after the child's preliminary placement in the adoptive home. Previous law did not require court review of the sufficiency of the surrender and the Preplacement Certification for Adoption, although by local rule, several juvenile courts have undertaken that obligation. This change seeks to standardize that good practice and to ensure that counsel for both the surrendering parent and the adopting
27	parents, if then known, are given notice of any deficiency.

5	of the filing of her the mother's surrender shall be served upon the
6	alleged or adjudicated father unless any of the following apply:
7	(1) His potential parental rights have been terminated by a
8	judgment in accordance with Title X of this Code.
9	(2) He has executed a surrender in accordance with this Title.
10	(3) He has given his consent in open court in accordance with
11	Article 1195.
12	(4) He has executed a release of claims in accordance with
13	Article 1196.

written objection with this court within fifteen days after you receive this notice.

If you file a written objection timely, the court will then hold a hearing within twenty days of the filing of the opposition, to determine whether you have established or forfeited your parental rights.

To establish your parental rights to oppose the adoption, you must demonstrate to the court the affirmative efforts you have made to establish or maintain a parental relationship with the child. This may include attempted legitimation of the child, formal acknowledgment of the child with the clerk of court in the parish in which the child was born, declaration of paternity filed in the Louisiana putative father registry (after July 1, 1992), or provision of substantial parental care and support to the child. acknowledge that you are the father of the child or be found to be the father by court order as a result of blood tests. Thereafter, you must also demonstrate to the court that you are a fit parent who is willing and able to assume the legal and physical care of your child. You must also demonstrate that you have made a substantial commitment to your parental responsibilities by providing or attempting to provide substantial and consistent support for the mother during pregnancy or after the child's birth and by frequently and consistently visiting or attempting to visit the child after birth.

If you fail to file a written motion of opposition, or if, after a hearing on a motion timely filed, the court finds that you have failed to establish your parental right to oppose the adoption, the court will order the termination of any and all parental rights you may have and the child may be subject to adoption."

1	Comments —1999
2 3 4 5	(a) The revisions to Paragraph A result from concern that, in some adoptions, due diligence has not been exercised in attempting to identify and/or locate an alleged or adjudicated father. See, e.g., In the Matter of Adoption of M.L. , 688 So.2d 1352 (4th Cir. 1997).
6 7 8 9 10	(b) As a general rule, Article 1113 requires the consent of the minor's parent when she or he desires to surrender a child for private adoption. The addition of Paragraph C ensures that parents will have notice when the petitioner seeks to terminate the minor father's rights involuntarily.
11 12 13 14 15	(c) The revision of the notice is necessary in order to give more accurate information to an alleged or adjudicated father of a child who has been surrendered for adoption. Article 1137 was amended in 1997 to provide explicitly for blood tests on motion of the father. The father's burden of proof at an opposition hearing is governed by Article 1138, and the substance of its requirements are set out here.

24	Comments —1999
25 26 27 28	(a) The revisions to this Article are all intended to discourage entrepreneurs who might be tempted to take advantage of what is an undeniable buyer's market for adoptable children. As originally drafted, this Article and Article 1201 required a reporting of expenses

REENGROSSED

1	as a hoped for deterrent to price gouging and other forms of
2	unscrupulous practice; however, these articles lacked any sanction, nor
3	could patterns of unreasonable fees be discerned because there has
4	been no central data bank for Adoption Disclosure Affidavits that might
5	help to establish service and fee norms.
6	(b) Paragraph A is modeled on an Ohio statute, §3107.10(C).
7	Its purpose is to ensure that actual costs, rather than under reported
8	estimates, are disclosed to the court.
9	(c) Most of the revisions to Paragraph B are to detail with
10	greater specificity the type of expenses that may be charged in an
11	adoption, and thus do not constitute the crime of baby selling.
12	Subparagraph B(7) expressly confirms that the reasonable living
13	expenses of the mother during pregnancy and for thirty days thereafter
14	could be charged. This is not a change in substance, but was implied
15	by Article 1201(C). Reimbursement for such living expenses is
16	permitted by the majority of other states and by the Uniform Adoption
17	Act, §1-103(5). Subparagraph B(9) is new and authorizes the court to
18	approve other expenses similar to the listed categories if it finds them
19	reasonable and necessary in the particular case or, for example, if there
20	are birth recovery complications warranting extension of the payment
21	of the mother's living expenses beyond the thirty-day period.
22	(d) The source of Paragraph C is §7-103(b) of the Uniform
23	Adoption Act. Its purpose is to treat surrenders for adoption and
22 23 24 25	expense reimbursement as independent promises. Obviously, if
25	payments were made contingent upon the parent's surrendering his
26	child for adoption, that would be tantamount to a sale of the child.
27	(e) Paragraphs E and F are modeled on Ohio Rev. Code Ann.
28	§3107.10(D) (Baldwin 1998). They enumerate a range of alternatives
29	when claimed expenses are found to be either excessive or
30	unauthorized.
31	(f) Paragraph G underscores the seriousness of fee disclosure
32	by requiring review and approval prior to the entry of any decree of
33	adoption.
34	(g) Paragraph H ensures that expense disclosure affidavits and
35	related orders in every adoption proceeding are reported to the state
36	department for date collection and administrative review. Among other
37	sanctions, a pattern of excessive or unwarranted charges will jeopardize
38	continued licensure of any child placing agency.

Art. 1208. Hearing; petition for agency adoption

A. The court shall set a sign the order setting the time and place for the hearing of the petition for agency adoption not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the filing of the adoption petition. The court may extend this time for up to sixty additional days for good cause, which may include a showing by the department that it has been impossible to gather the necessary data within the time prescribed. The court may reduce the time to a minimum of fifteen days with written approval of the department and the petitioner. If an extension of time is granted, the court shall set a new hearing date and shall require the petitioner to report to the court, either at that hearing, or before, in detail concerning the progress of the child's adoptive placement.

Art. 1235. Continuing duties of the department; home study report

A. After an interlocutory decree has been entered, the department shall maintain contact with the proposed adoptive home directly or through another agency in accordance with Paragraph B. The number of visits to the home and the time for them shall be within the discretion of the department. However, no less than two visits shall be made to the home, one of which shall occur within thirty days before the final decree of agency adoption.

B. The department may delegate the performance of this investigation to a licensed private adoption agency, but the department remains responsible for ensuring the accuracy and thoroughness of the resulting report and for the safety and welfare of the child. The department shall adopt, promulgate, and enforce such rules and regulations as are necessary and appropriate to implement this authorization in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, R.S. 49:951 et seq., as amended.

B. C. A second confidential report must be presented to the court preceding the hearing on the final decree of agency adoption. The findings of this report shall be based upon the same considerations as prescribed in Article 1229 and shall disclose any changed conditions and all new pertinent information.

18	after the petition has been filed, the adoption proceedings may continue
19	as though the survivor was a single original petitioner.
20	C. For purposes of this Chapter:
21	(a) "Aunt" or "uncle" means a sibling of a parent of the child.
22	(b) "Grandparent" includes a great grandparent.
23	Comments —1999
24 25 26 27 28 29	There has been a clear trend over the past ten years to broaden the category of relatives who may seek an intrafamily adoption. Aunts/uncles were included by the 1997 legislature, though cousins and siblings were still excluded. It is difficult to justify this arbitrary line of demarcation as long as the requirement is retained that the petitioner relative must also have undertaken responsibility for the child's caretaking in his or her home for at least six months prior to filing for 2 the adoption. In addition, the court has the authority pursuant to 3 Article 1252 to order the Department of Social Services to conduct a 4 confidential investigation. Article 622 which defines "kinship care", 5 the class of relatives who are to be given priority as custodians in a 6 child in need of care case, includes cousins as well as siblings. Cf. Art. 1171. Note that neither Art. 622 nor Art. 1243 defines whether the 7 8 relationship is limited to a relationship by blood or includes a 9 relationship by adoption or by marriage. 10 Art. 1243.1. Intrafamily adoptions The provisions of this Chapter govern intrafamily adoptions and take precedence when in conflict with another provision of this Title. 12 13 Comments —1999 14 The addition of this new article does not reflect a substantive 15 change. The substance of this provision was added for clarification by the legislature in 1997 in amending Art. 1244(D), but more 16 17 appropriately should be set forth here. Art. 1243.2. Upon the filing of a petition, the court shall immediately 20 issue both of the following orders: 21 (1) That the local sheriff conduct a records check for all federal 22 arrests and convictions and all state arrests and convictions for each of the prospective adoptive parents. 23 24 (2) That the department conduct a records check for validated 25 complaints of child abuse or neglect in this or any other state in which 26 either of the prospective adoptive parents has been domiciled since 27 becoming a major, involving either prospective adoptive parent. B. Each order shall state the full name, date of birth, social 28 29 security number, and former and current state(s) of domicile since

5 6 7 8	The source of this language is Art. 1131(C) through (E). The purpose of this provision is to ensure that a records check for both abuse/neglect and criminal records will be required for all adopting parents, regardless of the type of adoption.

Comments —1999

This article has been simplified and made consistent with the parallel policies of the "abandonment" ground in a certification for adoption proceeding. See Art. 1015(4). The issue of whether the parent retains the right to refuse consent to the adoption or has forfeited it will be resolved at the hearing required by Article 1253. Even if the court finds that the petitioner has sufficiently proved a ground of parental forfeiture, the court may still refuse to approve the adoption if it finds that it would not be in the child's best interest (Art. 1255). Indeed, denial of an adoption decree based on the best interest of the child is most prevalent in stepparent adoptions relying upon a failure of support. Courts have repeatedly held that a showing of nonsupport is not an automatic trigger allowing an adoption; the court must consider the factors which determine the child's best interests, including the environment of the adoptive home and the relationship between the child and the noncustodial parent. (See In re Glass Applying for Adoption, 424 So.2d 383 (2d Cir 1982); In re D.W.H., 457 So.2d 137 (2d Cir. 1984).

Art. 1253. Hearing; petition for intrafamily adoption

A. The court shall set a sign the order setting the time and place for the hearing of the petition for intrafamily adoption not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the filing of the adoption petition. The court may extend this time for up to sixty days for good cause, which may include a showing by the department that it has been impossible to gather the necessary data within the time prescribed. The court may reduce the time to a minimum of fifteen days with written approval of the department and the petitioner. If an extension of time is granted, the court shall set a new hearing date and shall require the

17	This revision deletes a statutory prohibition against the use of
18	the voluntary registry by some fathers of illegitimate children, a
19	prohibition that antedated the promulgation of the Children's Code.
20	Only fathers who had legitimated, formally acknowledged, surrendered
21	or otherwise consented to the child's adoption could register.
22	Perversely, such a restriction punished a caring father who contested an
23	adoption. In addition the restriction which applied only to fathers of
24	illegitimate children may have been unconstitutional. Most important,
25	barring registration by these fathers also bars their children from
26 27	seeking information about their paternal ancestry from the voluntary registry.

Comments —1999

Article 1194 was repealed by implication when Article 1015(6) was revised substantially by the 1997 legislature. Both articles authorize the use of a parent's incarceration as a ground for terminating his parental rights, though the right of action of Art. 1015(6) is limited to public officials, that is, the district attorney or the Department of Social Services.
