Proposed legislation amends present law domestic abuse battery penalties. On first conviction, the minimum term of imprisonment increases from not less than 10 days to not less than 30 days with at least 48 hours of the sentence being served without benefit of parole, probation, or suspension of sentence. On conviction of a second offense, the minimum term of imprisonment increases from not less than 30 days to not less than 60 days with at least 96 hours of the sentence being served without benefit of parole, probation, or suspension of sentence. The remainder of the sentence shall not be suspended unless the offender participates in a court-approved domestic abuse prevention program and either serves 30 days in jail or participates in 30 eight-hour days of community service. Proposed legislation increases the minimum term of imprisonment to 45 days for a first conviction and 1 year for a second conviction, if the victim is pregnant.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on state governmental expenditures as a result of this measure. The proposed legislation is a misdemeanor; therefore, these offenders are not sentenced to the Department of Public Safety and Corrections. Local law enforcement agencies may realize an indeterminable increase in expenditures associated with prison costs. The cost increase will depend on the number of persons convicted, the minimum sentence an offender serves, and the cost per day for a local law enforcement agency to incarcerate an offender.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
