EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental expenditures as a result of this measure.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

The proposed legislation allows an insurance producer the ability to negotiate compensation with property and casualty insurers or a commercial policyholder by any combination of commissions, fees, or fees in lieu of commissions if the commercial policyholder meets certain criteria. This bill allows for producers and their large commercial policyholders the ability to separate the premium, commission and fees transactions to where no premium tax is paid on commissions or fees. To the extent these transactions of premium, commissions, or fees were separated in the past, this bill has no fiscal impact on state insurance premium tax collections. However, because the Department of Insurance does not know when commissions and fees are processed in separate transactions from premium or combined with premium and premium tax, the specific fiscal impact of this bill is indeterminable.

To the extent that those commercial policyholders that meet the specific criteria of this legislation and who do not already separate commission/fees from its insurance premium tax liability calculation and who decide to separate commission/fees from its premium tax liability calculation, state general fund revenues could decrease. However, the 5 criteria outlined within this legislation limit the pool of commercial entities that would be allowed to negotiate fees as opposed to commissions for its property and casualty policies.

According to the Independent Insurance Agents of Louisiana, this bill merely codifies current business practice.
