Dixon (HB 285) Act No. 262

Existing law provides for compensation for wrongfully convicted persons.

Prior law provided that compensation shall be calculated at a rate of $15,000 per year of incarceration, not to exceed a total of $150,000.

New law changes prior law from $15,000 per year to $25,000 per year and from $150,000 total to $250,000 for physical harm and injury suffered by the petitioner to be paid at a rate of $25,000 annually.

Prior law required the petitioner to be compensated $40,000 for the loss of life opportunities.

New law changes the amount of compensation for loss of life opportunities in prior law from $40,000 to $80,000.

Prior law provided for compensation for the costs of job-skills training for one year and for the appropriate medical and counseling services for three years.

New law requires payment of the costs of job-skills training for three years and for the appropriate medical and counseling services for  $\underline{six}$  years.

New law provides that any petitioner who has been awarded compensation by the court on or after Sept. 1, 2005, and prior to Sept. 1, 2011, may file a petition seeking supplemental compensation. The petitioner shall file a petition seeking supplemental compensation on or before Sept. 1, 2012, or be forever barred from filing a supplemental petition.

Effective September 1, 2011.
