EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

The proposed legislation may result in an indeterminable increase in governmental expenditures. Requiring governmental service users the ability to post comments online (blog-style) would likely result in smaller agencies being required to utilize a professional services contractor, while the larger state agencies would likely be able to absorb the development costs. These potential costs depend upon the in-house IT resources in the agency. According to the Office of Information Technology (OIT), programming time for a comment section could be approximately 4 hours per agency.

For simplicity, state general fund is indicated as the only means of financing impacted in the expenditure box above. However, all means of financing may be impacted by the proposed legislation.

NOTE: The departments impacted include: Agriculture & Forestry, Children & Family Services, Environmental Quality, Transportation & Development, Health & Hospitals, Vital Records, Workforce Commission, Motor Vehicles, State Police, Secretary of State, Revenue, Wildlife & Fisheries, State Retirement Systems, Office of Group Benefits (DOA), Elderly Affairs, Community Development (DOA), Student Financial Assistance, Financial Institutions, Board of Ethics.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

There is no anticipated direct material effect on governmental revenues as a result of this measure.
