Current law allows exclusions and deductions from corporate gross income for a variety of situations . Proposed law reduces these exclusions and deductions by 20%. The affected exclusions and deductions are: public transportation corporations, oil and gas well allowance for depletion, net operating losses, corporate income tax refunds, dividends from banking corporations, certain expenses disallowed for federal taxation, dividend income, and hurricane recovery benefits. The tax-exempt period for La Community Development Financial Institutions is shortened from five years to four years. Applicable to all claims for these exclusions and deductions made on any return filed on or after July 1, 2015, regardless of the taxable year to which the return relates. However, exclusions or deductions denied on returns filed after July 1, 2015 pursuant to an extension granted prior to July 1, 2015 can be recouped in one-third increments over three subsequent fiscal years, beginning with FY17. Not applicable to amended returns timely filed after July 1, 2015, relating to original returns filed prior to July 1, 2015 and properly claimed an exemption, credit, rebate, or deduction.

EXPENDITURE EXPLANATION

The Department of Revenue (LDR) will incur costs for computer system modification and testing, tax form redesign, and tax payer inquiries. These costs are typically small for individual tax law changes (likely to be several thousands of dollars) and are typically absorbed within existing resources until cumulative changes necessitate additional resources be provided.

REVENUE EXPLANATION

Most of the exclusions and deductions affected by the bill have no reporting requirements in the corporate tax provisions, and the Department of Revenue has no data associated with them. For a few of the items affected by the bill the Department was able to recalculate corporate returns filed during FY14 or the top 200 of returns from the 2012 tax year with certain of these exclusions and deductions reduced by 20%. The resulting increases in tax liabilities were approximately $87 million.

Since the bill is applicable to all return filed on or after July 1, 2015, regardless of the taxable year to which the return relates, this level of revenue gain is the base expected gain during FY16 and beyond.

Allowing denied exclusions or deductions to be recouped over the FY17 - FY19 period reduces the revenue generated in those periods. This effect is acknowledged by applying a factor that reflects the three-year average share of total corporate income & franchise tax credits on returns received in a fiscal year attributable to tax periods earlier than the immediately preceding tax period. For corporate tax returns this factor is 90%. Thus, FY17 - FY19 are reduced by one-third of 90% of the FY16 revenue generated by the bill, or $26 million each year. By FY20 this three year recoupment is expired, and full revenue generation of the bill continues.

Amended returns, timely filed after July 1, 2015 relating to original returns filed prior to July 1, 2015 that properly claimed an exemption, credit, rebate, or deduction are not likely to effect the potential revenue generated by the bill. The original returns would have already received the benefit of any exemptions, credits, rebates, or deductions. Presumably, the amended filing would be for reasons unrelated to the properly claimed and received benefits.
