2016 Regular Session

Chad Brown

Abstract: Removes the five-day waiting period imposed on sales of copper or aluminum-copper air conditioning coils.

Present law regulates payments made relative to transactions for the purchase of copper or aluminum-copper air conditioning coils. Further, present law imposes a five-day waiting period as a restriction on sales of copper or aluminum-copper air conditioning coils.

Proposed law removes the five-day waiting period imposed on sales of copper or aluminum-copper air conditioning coils but other wise retains present law.
